

High-level Political Forum 2015 (under the auspices of ECOSOC): Regional support to national action

6th Meeting, June 30, 2015

I am Sebastián Ramirez Mendoza (Equidad de Género, Ciudadanía, Trabajo y Familia) speaking on behalf of the Women's Major Group.

1. The relevance to link the regional sustainable development forums with regional agreements that can help to improve the implementation of the SDGs with a higher ambition. For example, to build on the implementation of the SDG 5.4, could be useful to link it with the Montevideo Consensus, about the shared responsibility of reduce and redistribute the burden of unpaid domestic and care work between women and men, as well as the State, communities, families and the private sector. 2. The HLPPF, and the regional forums are opportunities to indentify progress on the actions undertaken by developed countries with their commitments on the systemic issues and structural transformations needed in the economic and financial system to fulfill the MoI's. The integrality of the FfD agenda will be central in this regard.

2. The HLPPF, and the regional forums are opportunities to indentify progress on the actions undertaken by developed countries with their commitments on the systemic issues and structural transformations needed in the economic and financial system to fulfill the MoI's. The integrality of the FfD agenda will be central in this regard. How do the panelists envision these possible points of entry